

The "Do Not Call List" has definitely improved the quality of our lives in New Jersey, both at home and at work. The telemarketing business is a total invasion of privacy, disrupting our business and tying up our phone lines. We have requested not to be called for a reason, they sell our name and information to an infinite number of sources who in turn hound us at every possible moment.

Please! New Jersey did something great for its people by making this law as strict as it needed to be. Don't undo a good law that was sorely needed!
